

Space Weather Events Plots

NOTE: Pay attention to the magnetogram y axis scale. It is not the same for all 3 graphs.

A: 03-16 May 2024

May 2024 event Magnetogram (INTERMAGNET, 2026)

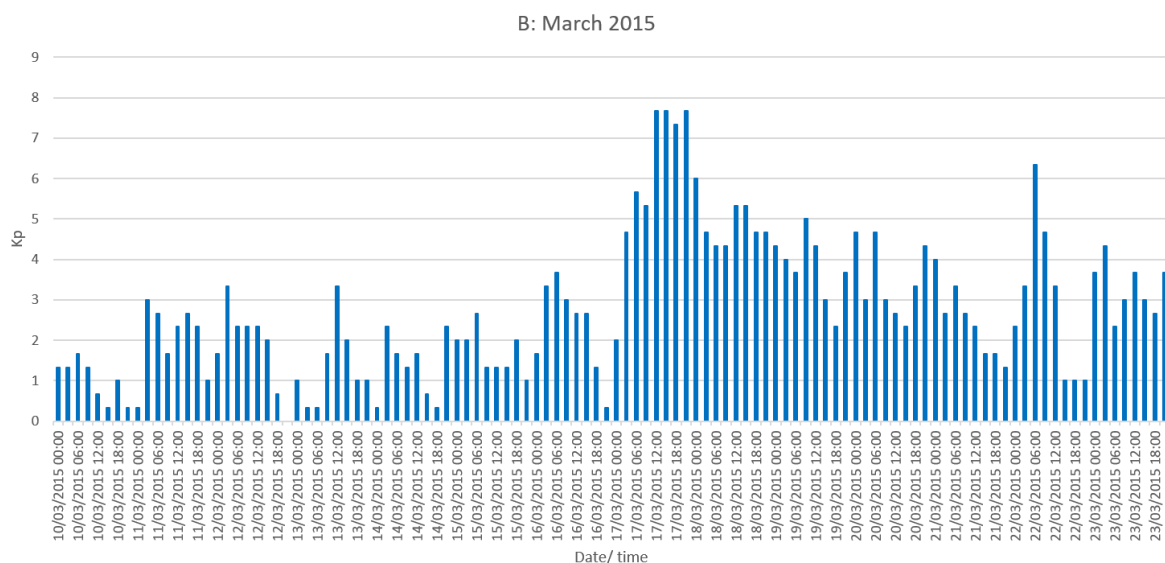

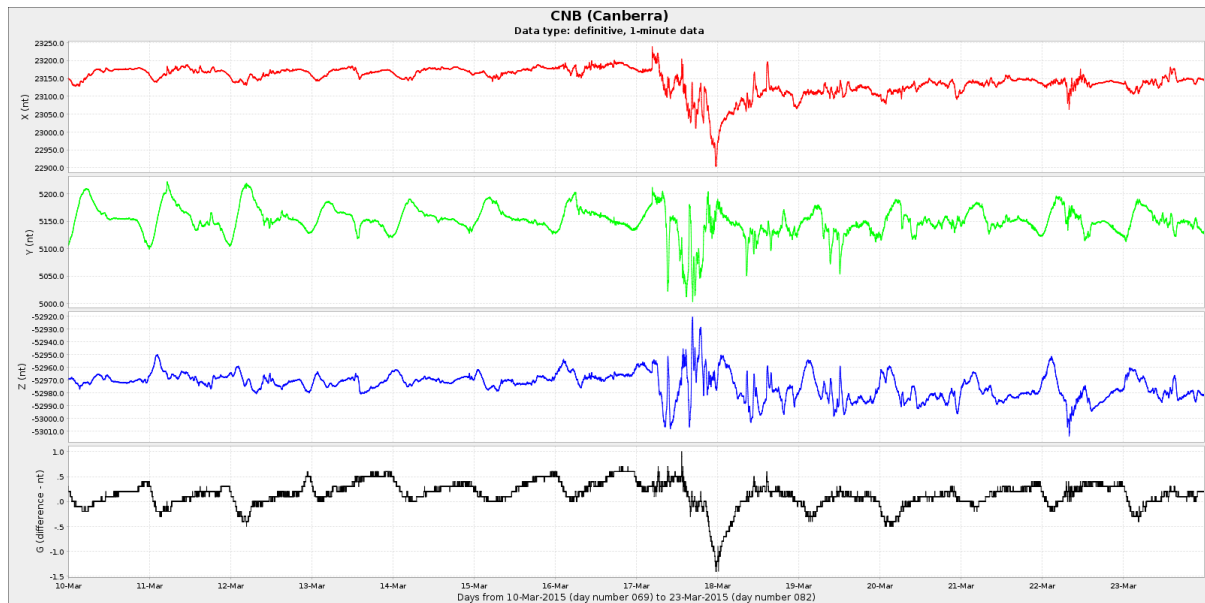

May 2024 event Kp data (Matzka et al., 2021)

INTERMAGNET (2026). Geomagnetic data (Canberra observatory, minute data, best available). Collected by Geoscience Australia, retrieved from the INTERMAGNET Data Portal. Available at: https://img-data.bgs.ac.uk/GIN_V1/GINForms2 (Accessed: 15 May 2026).

Matzka, J., Stolle, C., Yamazaki, Y., Bronkalla, O. and Morschhauser, A. (2021). The geomagnetic Kp index and derived indices of geomagnetic activity. Space Weather. <https://doi.org/10.1029/2020SW002641>

Space Weather Events Plots

B: 10-23 March 2015

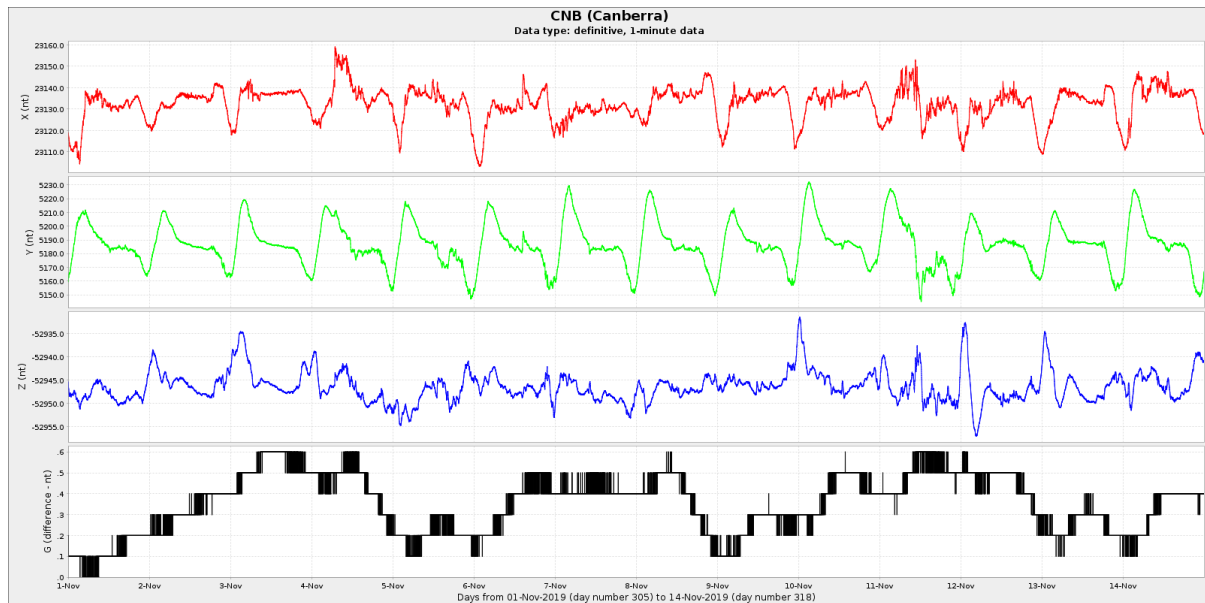

March 2015 event Kp data (Matzka et al., 2021)

INTERMAGNET (2026). Geomagnetic data (Canberra observatory, minute data, best available). Collected by Geoscience Australia, retrieved from the INTERMAGNET Data Portal. Available at: https://img-data.bgs.ac.uk/GIN_V1/GINForms2 (Accessed: 15 May 2026).

Space Weather Events Plots

C: 01-14 November 2019

November 2019 event Magnetogram (INTERMAGNET, 2026)

November 2019 event Kp data (Matzka et al., 2021)

INTERMAGNET (2026). Geomagnetic data (Canberra observatory, minute data, best available). Collected by Geoscience Australia, retrieved from the INTERMAGNET Data Portal. Available at: https://img-data.bgs.ac.uk/GIN_V1/GINForms2 (Accessed: 15 May 2026).
